For Smart Women

= By Mildred | odewick = Copyright, 1922 (New York Evening World), by Press Publishing Company.

HIE knotty problem which women have to smooth out in securing a comfortable cold weather outfit, begins with a hat, then the frock, and lastly the coat. Never was the coat a more necessary article of apparel, for the suit has lost considerable of its prestige even for practical wear. Women who go to business have found the frock just as convenient, as economical and as smart, as the suit. And the coat which covers It must of course incorporate practicality, being of durable fabric and not elaborate or dressy in trimming, but its lines and silhouette may be distinctly modish.

I have designed a model which combines the qualities mentioned, making use of a small amount of fur in an individual manner. Any of the new winter coat fab rics are suitable, the plain surfaced ones with quite a deep flap being well liked. The upper portion of this model is built rather snug, n straight lines to a low belt line, where the lower portion, which also hangs dright, is attached with picier on the hips. These plaits are pressed very flat and are revealed only when the wearer is in motion. The narrow belt accentuates the trimming quality of the plaits by an elaboration of braiding at the top of each group on either

The band of fur which begins at the neck does not allow the belt to interrupt it on its way to the very bottom, where it drops a rounded tab below the edge; A large collar of the labric and is finished with a narrow band of the fur, the same of which is used also on the sleeves to mark a deep coff that is really only a turning-under of the fabric to form a soft roll. A feature not to be overlooked is the drop-shoulder line which effects a yoke.

Coward Shoe

Wide Top Closes Gaping Uppers

Women of substantial build often find it difficult to get shoes large enough at the top. To serve these women Coward makes the Wide Top Shoe. A shoe which does away with unsightly gaping uppers.

Besides fine appearance the Wide Top gives adequate foot support to heavy women. Leathers are soft and pliable—the last easy and graceful. Offered in wide or semi-wide top-with or without extension heel.

GARRISON LOOKS FOR NEW PARTIES

Sees Conservatives Aligned Against Radicals.

DENVER, Sept. 25 .- That the two great political parties in the United States are having difficulty to find an issue upon which they can differ materially, and that the natural outcome of the situation is likely to result in the scrapping of the Republican and Democratic Parties in favor of a new political line-up of conservatives and radicals, is the opinion of Lindley M. Garrison, former Secretary of Way

"There is a very decided difference of opinion among the American people regarding our Constitution," he said. "While I class myself as a conservative I have no quarrel with that large and growing body of Americana who feel this country has outgrown its Constitution, and that the time for change in our form of Government s here. A new political alignment is mminent in America-the conservatives of both parties against the radicals.
